What is the Claims Conference?

The Conference on Jewish Material Claims Against Germany (Claims Conference) represents world Jewry in negotiating for compensation and restitution for victims of Nazi persecution and their heirs. Its mission is to obtain a small measure of material justice for Jewish victims of Nazi persecution.

The Claims Conference administers compensation funds, recovers unclaimed Jewish property, and allocates funds to institutions that provide social welfare services to Holocaust survivors and preserve the memory and lessons of the Shoah.

Since the Claims Conference was established in 1951, its negotiations with German government and industry have resulted in the payment of more than $70 billion to more than 800,000 Jewish victims of Nazism living in 87 countries and territories.

The Claims Conference also negotiated the return of Jewish property in the former East Germany to the original owners and heirs. The Claims Conference was appointed the successor organization for unclaimed Jewish assets that remained unclaimed. Nevertheless, it allowed legal heirs to claim their assets from the organization. The proceeds from the unclaimed property fund vital social services to Jewish Holocaust victims around the world. A small portion of these funds supports Holocaust education, documentation, and research, honoring the memory of the victims who perished and preserving their legacy.
